TO OUR CUSTOMERS.

We present you herewith our second Illustrated Catalogue in a new shape and size and which, we hope, will prove more convenient and satisfactory.

To meet the requirements of our growing trade, we have enlarged our factory at Santa Clara and have taken a long lease of the three-story and basement brick building, erected specially for our use, at 934 and 936 Mission street, San Francisco.

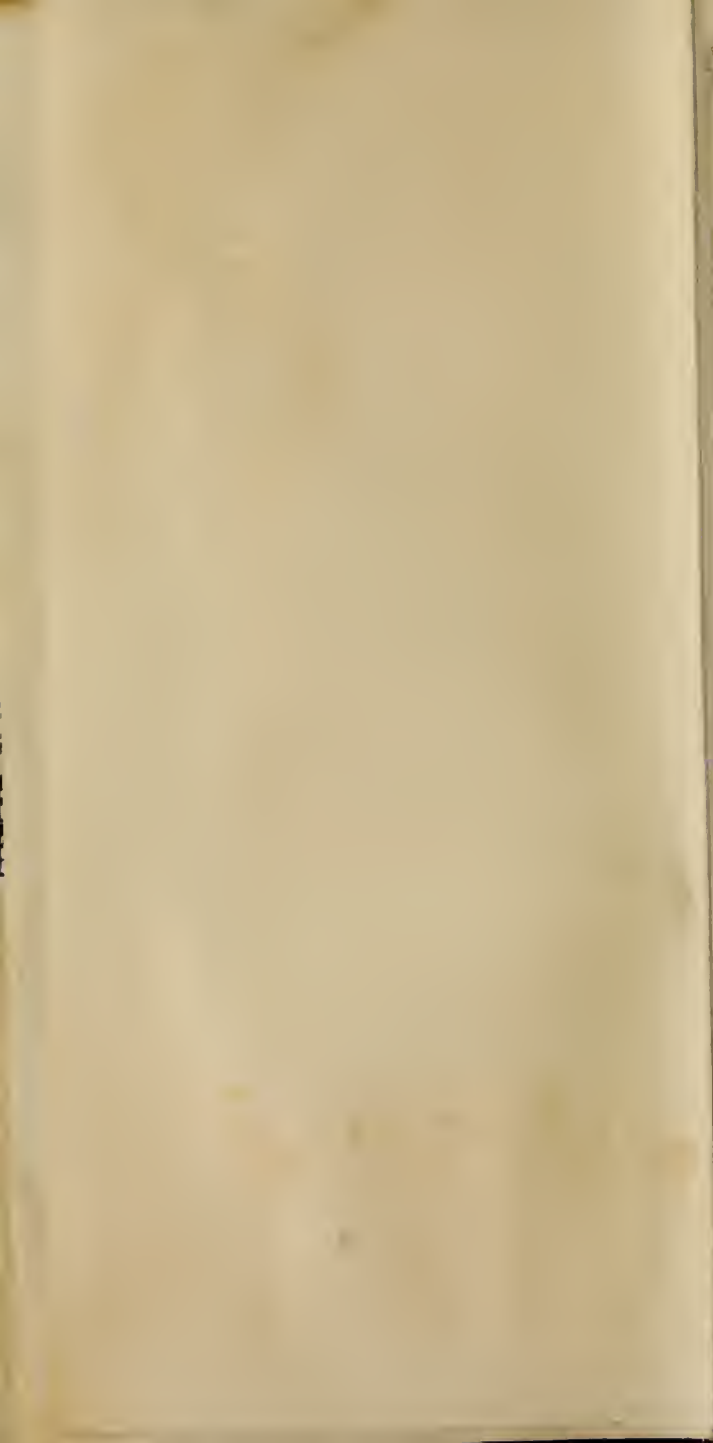

You will notice that in addition to our former stock of wooden and metallic coffins and caskets we now carry a fine line of the "Stein" cloth-covered goods and funeral furniture. On pages 1 and 2 of Catalogue will be found tables by which nests can be ordered, and, as you will observe, each style of coffin or casket has a name of its own by the use of which, in telegraph orders, words are saved and the liability to error diminished.

For instance, the word Scarlet means a nest of 6-3, 5-9, 5-3, 4-3, 3-6 and 2-6, No. 22 caskets, and cannot mean anything else.

The words Pandora, Lath. mean a 5-9 Stein casket, G. No. 85, pp. 43 and 44 in catalogue. Panther, Rattle, always means a 6-0 No. 50, pp. 15 and 16. We think that those of our customers who may not desire to keep a stock of fine, high-cost goods, and yet who may have some sale for them will find this system of great convenience.

With respect, we are, yours truly,
